Profile

I am an award-winning British artist and member of the Royal Society of Sculptors, working between Barcelona and London. My practice explores the limits of human communication and perception, inspired by my diverse interests in technology, psychology, and science.

I have received awards and recognition from the Royal Society of Sculptors, Clifford Chance, Fabra i Coats and the Ramon Llull Institute, and my projects have been supported by the Spanish Ministry for Culture and the UK Government's Arts Council England. I graduated from Central Saint Martins, London, with a Master of Fine Arts (Distinction) and received the South Square Trust Scholarship.

My work has been exhibited by British and international institutions, including Saatchi Gallery, Tate Modern, Royal Society of Sculptors, London Short Film Festival, Manifesta15+ Barcelona and Common Room Shanghai, and is held in the Royal College of Nursing's and the University of the Arts London's collections.
